Answering Questions on: The Labour Market Information Survey

Where does my information go?

Your information goes to Employment and Social Development Canada (ESDC)

What information do they get?

ESDC only gets grouped data, they do not receive any identifying information about our band members

What if I've done a survey before?

If it has been more than 10 months since your last survey then its time to do another! You do not need to start from scratch. An email can be sent to you so you can use information from your previous survey to update a new one.

What will OKIB be able to do with these surveys?

The goal is to gather information so that we can utilize and maximize all our band members skills and connect members with as many opportunities as possible. We plan to use this information to see where our community excels as well and where we as a community want to grow our skill. Using these surveys we will identify our member's abilities and any work place gaps we may have. We are a strong community and this will be used to grow our work force here and match band members with the right training and jobs.
